MENLO PARK NEWS

MENLO PARK—James Doherty has resigned his clerkship in the local post office to join the army. He will become a lieutenant. He will, no doubt, be sent overseas for actual service.

★ ★ ★

It was rumored this week that the Glynn property on Santa Cruz Ave. will shortly be taken over by a wholesale grocery firm to open a retail business there. The property will be close to the big highway when that thoroughfare is widened by the state. Work on the project is to start soon.

★ ★ ★

John A. Gorman of New York has purchased a home in Felton Gables to which he will bring his family next month. Mr. Gorman is a retired attorney. He has held many positions of trust in his native city during his long and busy career in the East.

Bernard Doyle and Sam Roach are said to be somewhere in Australia with the American forces. No letters have been received by their relatives, but it is believed they arrived in there two weeks ago.

★ ★ ★

The baseball games at the Palo Alto diamond, near the highway, draw many fans from Menlo Park every Sunday. The teams play good ball and deserve support.

★ ★ ★

Owing to the war and tire shortage there will be but few picnics in the Kuck Gardens this Summer. The first outing will be at the end of May. The gardens never looked so beautiful.

★ ★ ★

John Welsh, young son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Welsh, is somewhere in the "Heart of Texas" studying aviation. He expects to receive his wings in June when he may be sent overseas to join the American forces.

★ ★ ★

The next mayor of Menlo Park is going to be a woman. When she takes over, the personnel will have to stand at attention and obey orders "or else."

Used Candles Sought By the Red Cross

A candle collection aimed at providing emergency lighting for 12 Red Cross medical casualty centers in event of a disaster was started today under the direction of Mrs. Z. T. Thorning, Redwood City Red Cross chairman.

Persons using candles for parties or in their homes were urged by the chairman to turn over the ends to the Red Cross so that they can be used in reflectors constructed by Troop 143 of the Boy Scouts under the direction of P. E. Powell, acting scoutmaster. The candles may be left at Red Cross headquarters, in the old library building on Broadway at Jefferson Ave.

Each of the nine casualty stations and the three evacuation depots will be equipped with the reflectors which are constructed from old tin cans. In the event of a power failure Mrs. Thorning said that doctors and nurses in the stations would use the reflectors to perform their operations.

Trial reflectors, already completed by Powell and his son, Glen, are made by cutting a circular section out of the side of the can and affixing a handle on the other side. Then with a fixture fastened to the bottom of the can to hold the candle, the reflector is ready for operation.

Civilians Wearying Of Training

More than five months after Pearl Harbor, not one of Redwood City's 3185 assigned civilian defense workers could boast today that he had completed his course of training and had been certified.

This statement was confirmed by city and county defense chiefs after the Tribune learned that attendance at civilian defense training classes in Redwood City has fallen off to the point where on Tuesday, May 5, of 141 called in for a required fire fighting course, only 21 appeared.

Other attendance records for similar recent classes: 86 summoned, 39 attended; 55 summoned, 7 attended; 65 summoned, 16 attended the last-named class on May 4.

Fire Chief Mark E. Ryan admitted that none of his auxiliary force had completed federal requirements, although the department has held 182 meetings covering 331 hours.

Mayor Floyd D. Granger said in his opinion some of the difficulty resulted from lack of instructors. Police Sergt. W. H. Thorpe and Alfred Morton, assistant defense co-ordinator, will complete special courses at Stanford on Thursday, and will be available thereafter, he said. He said he could not understand why volunteers failed to attend scheduled classes.

In the county, according to Defense Chief Earl P. Wilsey, only 314 of the 21,000 defense volunteers have been certified. Another 2000 required only a few more hours of instruction and 12,000 are undergoing intensive training, he said.

A large class of auxiliary police and wardens will be certificated in Burlingame, San Mateo and San Carlos within a few days, he predicted.

Meanwhile Judge E. I. McAuliffe, Redwood City's chief air warden, admitted that none of his personnel had been able to complete the training program, in most cases because the required courses, including close order military drill, had not been offered.

Civilian defense (not to be confused with Red Cross, AWVS or other services) requires that wardens complete a 25-hour course, including first aid, and gas defense, general course and drill.

Auxiliary police are required to take 28 hours of instruction in the same subjects. Auxiliary firemen are required to undergo 32 hours of training.

Judge McAuliffe said none of the headquarters staff in Redwood City has completed the required 22-hour staff course.

Coroner Investigates Flower Spray Death

SAN BRUNO—Death of Mrs. Maxine Reeves, 23, at her San Bruno home Tuesday after what officials said appeared to be a drinking party was being investigated by Coroner William F. Crosby today. Dep. Coroner Glenn Chapman said the woman apparently was a suicide, and drank some flower spray.

An autopsy failed to disclose the cause of death and vital organs were sent to a San Francisco pathologist for examination.

Police said Mrs. Reeves and her husband, Clarence, 42, shipyard employe, entertained her brother, Corp. Delmar Hall and his friend, Pvt. Irwin Smith, last night. Phonographs, records and dishes were broken during the course of the evening, and Mrs. Reeves threatened suicide, police reported.

City Fire Whistle Is Back in Service

Fire Chief Mark E. Ryan today announced that the city's steam fire whistle, silent except for air raid signals since early in the war, is now back in service as a public fire alarm signal.

City Manager C. L. Dimmitt pointed out that the air raid signals will not be changed. The fire alarm may be distinguished easily by the fact that the steam whistle alone will be sounded, and it will give a coded call.

The fire chief said it was necessary to resume use of the whistle to call sufficient personnel to man fire equipment. Both Asst. Chief Richard Drivon and Dep. Chief Joseph Lodi are ill. Firemen William Hart will report to the air corps shortly, and the department is having difficulty in attracting new applicants for places in the department, Ryan said.

Of 15 places on the call or part-time list, only six are filled.

84 YEARS OF SERVICE TO HOMES AND INDUSTRY

Accidents Delay War Production

A few years ago it was pretty much of a worker's own business if he wanted to mash some fingers or break a leg in an industrial accident.

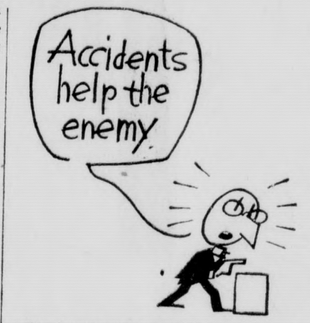
But, today, every industrial accident is a setback to America's war efforts. An accident is a disaster to Uncle Sam as well as to the person injured by it. Accidents cause the loss of needed man power, damage to vital machinery and the needless waste of critical materials.

In 1941, industrial accidents did more damage to American production than all the enemy saboteurs in the country.

Because of accidents last year, 460,000,000 man-days were lost, 101,500 workers were killed, 250,000 workers permanently disabled and 3,750,000 workers injured.

That is as bad as war. A military campaign resulting in such casualties would go down in history for all time.

The time lost could have produced 36 battleships. The workers killed could have made 20 battleships, 200 destroyers, 7,000 heavy bombers in one year.



The hazards of accidents are greater now than in 1941 because men are working longer hours and machinery is being operated 24 hours a day, turning out increasing amounts of war materials.

That's why J-M has intensified its accident prevention program and is exerting every effort to reduce casualties on the production front.

Keeping accidents down is one way to help America win the war.

Production Drive In Full Swing

Johns-Manville's new war production drive is now in full swing. Eighty percent of J-M's production is now being used for war purposes.

Production drive committees at various plants are beginning to show some real results that will bring about more and more J-M production of the war materials so urgently needed by the United Nations.

This new war drive for increased production is being tackled on four fronts.

There is the drive against accidents which not only injure employees and deprive their families of their paychecks but which may mean the loss of needed manpower or materials.

There is the drive against carelessness and waste. These cause serious damage to machinery which cannot be repaired because of lack of equipment and the loss of critical materials.

There is the ceaseless drive against the enemy agent who is only too anxious to sabotage American production.

And, on the fourth front there are the ideas which are being submitted by J-M jobholders to help increase production without the use of additional machinery or materials which cannot now be obtained.

J-M FAMILY ALBUM

A number of J-M employees may be retired if they are not twiddling their thumbs while their country is at war. At the left, Elas Decoteau, retired yardman of J-M's Nashua, N. H., plant, is shown collecting cans and pans to help our country obtain tin and aluminum so vital for war equipment.

Needed For War

More than 200,000,000 board feet of insulation materials will be needed this year for the cold storage plants of military cantonments, packing plants, creameries, ice cream plants and commercial refrigerators.

Another vital war use for J-M insulating products.

Liquor, Cash Stolen From Highway Cafe

Six cases of whiskey, one case of gin and $41.30 in cash were taken from Johny's Cafe, 3001 El Camino Real, Redwood City, Sunday night, according to a sheriff's office report. Total loss was estimated at $258.

Deputy Frank Marlowe said entry was forced through a jimmied back window between 11:15 p.m. yesterday when the place closed and 8:45 a.m. today when Proprietor John Ugliono reopened it.

Of the cash, $35 was taken from a hiding place in a drawer. Marlowe said the burglar apparently knew where to look.

Meanwhile Redwood City police announced that they had recovered a portion of the loot taken from a service station here May 5 by three confessed San Jose service station burglars.

Bowen Takes Navy Post; Spangler Named Editor

Kenneth L. Bowen, for the past 5½ years editor of the Tribune, has taken leave of absence from that position and after Wednesday will be employed in the U. S. Navy's Office of Censorship in San Francisco.

Appointed by Publisher Sam H. Winklebleck to become acting editor is Ray Spangler, courthouse reporter and columnist for the Tribune since Aug. 15, 1937.

SPANGLER

Although having charge of the editorial department of the Tribune, Spangler will continue to report courthouse affairs. The "making up" of the paper—the editing of copy, handling of telegraph news, writing of headlines — will be done by Loren (Larry) Irwin, who for more than a year has been Menlo Park and Stanford reporter for this paper, working through the Palo Alto Times. On the Tribune he will be news editor. Other members of the news staff are Otto Tallent, sports editor; Audrey Steele, woman's editor and Ellis (Bud) Sprunger Jr., reporter-proofreader.

Bowen, a member of the Tribune staff since he came to this paper from the Food Research Institute of Stanford University in November, 1934, plans to continue to live in Redwood City. He resides at 820 Hopkins Ave. with his wife and their two children, Kay, 8, and Beatrice Ann, 5. In the navy office, he will be employed as a civilian, expecting to be commissioned later as a lieutenant (junior grade).

KENNETH L. BOWEN

Bowen is a director of the Redwood City Chamber of Commerce; secretary of the Redwood City Traffic Study Committee; program chairman of the Exchange Club, of which he is a past president; a trustee of the First Methodist Church; and a member of the executive board of the Peninsula Celebration Association. He just resigned as a member of the executive board of the Redwood City War Savings Committee. He belongs to Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalistic fraternity. He is a graduate of Stanford University. He holds an ownership interest in the Tribune.

Spangler, a life-long resident of the Peninsula, was for a decade editor of the South San Francisco Enterprise, when it was a weekly paper, and advertising manager of the Watsonville Register-Pajaronian before coming to the Tribune. He also was secretary of the chamber of commerce in South San Francisco for several years. He is at present master of the Masonic Lodge there. He has been commuting from that city but plans now to live in Redwood City.

Irwin, like Spangler and Bowen a Stanford graduate, also plans to move to Redwood City. He has a wife and two children, Ann Page, 3, and Carol Jean, 1½.

Prior to working for the Palo Alto Times, Irwin was employed on a newspaper in Merced for two years, and before that he published a weekly newspaper at Hailey, Ida., in Sun Valley.

Surveying is believed to have originated in ancient Egypt.

"That's my Dad!"

You are proud of him, Sonny. You betcha, the whole world is proud of the airmen of the U.S.A. Someday you will be up there too. It will be peacetime flying for you, Sonny. Your Dad will see to that!

FLYING has become Man's Sixth Sense. Nature didn't give it to him. Man had to attain it. Flying takes exceptional eyesight, physical fitness and coordination of sense and machine. Of these three things that make up the Sixth Sense—the feel of the air and the control of the machine—EYESIGHT, the ability to see quickly and clearly in split-seconds has been most important to fledglings of the United States Air Force in winning their wings. Good eyesight depends upon how healthy, normal eyes are used or abused. Fortunately in America much has been learned about this since World War No. 1. Beginning with our grade schools, nurses, doctors, eye specialists and oculists have carefully watched the eye health of growing children, and the relationship of eye health to good light has been emphasized. The electrical industry, from the manufacturer of lamps to the electric company and the retail dealer, is proud of its part in the crusade of Better Light for Better Sight. America's eyes of the skies will be an important factor in the victory of Right Over Might.

Sportsmen's Show To Open on May 23

Bringing the outdoors indoors and concentrating one of the greatest and most versatile sport programs ever assembled under one roof, the first annual Western Sportsmen's Show will open its spectacular nine-day run at the Civic Auditorium May 23.

Manager F. W. (Nick) Kahler announced yesterday that the entertainment program for the extravanganza is virtually completed, from parachute and ski-jumping to fly casting and dead-eye archery exhibitions.

Coming direct from Chicago, where it thrilled 365,000 spectators, the Sportsmen's Show will introduce many world's champions to San Francisco.

Golf addicts will want to see Jimmy Lentz, world's greatest trick shot artist, in action. Fishermen will be interested in watching Roy (Doc) Haslett, the "Gypsy Angler," cast a fly with deadly accuracy in the specially constructed tank, 30 feet by 70 feet, on the auditorium floor.

For the ski enthusiasts, Anders Haugen, former Olympic Games champion, heads the jumpers who will soar 75 feet through space after descending down a specially constructed slide of waxed reeds at a mile-a-minute clip.

Ken and Walt Wilhelm, experts with the bow and arrow who made several motion picture shorts in Hollywood, will show their skill. Carl Rupert will drop from the auditorium ceiling in the world's only indoor free fall parachute jump.

Besides that, there'll be log rolling, canoe tilting, skeet shooting, dog retrieving, trained animal acts, conservation and commercial exhibits and many other features.

The show will continue its daily run until May 31.

'Cheers From Camps' Is New CBS Program

"Cheers from the Camps," new CBS-KQW program, will make its debut June 9 from 6:30-7:30 p.m. PWT, with men in America's armed forces as the stars.

Vice-Pres. Paul Garrett, of the General Motors Corp., sponsor of the new series, announces that the program is being put on as a contribution to the national war effort and in co-operation with the War Department and the United Service Organizations.

"General Motors," Garrett said, "will utilize the hour period to link our men in training in this country with their home folks. It will also give reports from the production line, reassuring our fighting men of an ever increasing stream of the implements of war from American workers and industry, for victory."

The entertainment is designed to make use of the talents of many actors, musicians, writers, singers and composers now in service.

Prescott S. Bush, national chairman of the USO War Fund, adds:

"USO is delighted to be identified with the program, 'Cheers From The Camps,' an important contribution to keeping the spirit in the home and the camp at a high level. USO will be very happy to co-operate through its clubs and service units, which now number more than 670 in the United States and overseas bases."

McKinley Students To Conduct Sale

Pupils in the office practice class at McKinley School are preparing under the direction of their teacher, Mrs. Lauretta S. Paulsen, to conduct a "white elephant" sale June 6 to provide funds for the San Mateo County Blood Bank.

To be conducted by the 14 pupils in front of the school bus garages, the sale will be open to all members of the student body and citizens of Redwood City.

Funds, resulting from the sale, will be spent first for war bonds and stamps which Mrs. Paulsen has promised to purchase with her own money and then this money will be turned over to the Blood Bank. Additional funds will result for sales of candy and ice cream one day a week until the sale in the school cafeteria.

Persons with salable items in their basements or attics were urged to contact Mrs. Paulsen at the school.
